E-Discovery Specialty Team

At Butzel, we know that to prevail in modern litigation requires a deep understanding of the ever-evolving laws and technologies shaping the field of electronic discovery (also known as eDiscovery). Considering that reality, we have developed a team of experienced attorneys and professionals passionate about providing effective, efficient, and legally defensible eDiscovery solutions customized to the needs of each client.

Our E-Discovery Specialty Team is prepared to counsel and represent you and your business whether it involves a single thumb drive of relevant data in a trade secret case or terabytes of data on servers and other devices around the globe (including cloud storage) in a complex commercial dispute.

The experienced Butzel Team routinely handles eDiscovery components of global audits, internal investigations, governmental investigations, arbitrations, and complex litigation matters, including cross-border disputes, ensuring our clients receive the eDiscovery know-how they need to succeed.
