Trade Secret & Non-Compete Specialty Team

Butzel's Trade Secret and Non-Compete Specialty Team is comprised of attorneys who possess a wealth of knowledge—accompanied by extensive courtroom experience—in representing and counseling clients in trade secret, non-compete, and other competitively sensitive business disputes.

Members of this Team regularly obtain and oppose injunctive relief and negotiate the resolution of business competition disputes. Each attorney remains current with all legal developments in this specialized area of practice and are often involved in the cases that define the boundaries of trade secret and non-compete law.

As a result of the depth of our commitment to this area of the law, Butzel attorneys are renowned not only for their litigation and trial experience, but also for counseling clients on how to protect themselves and their competitively sensitive business information through the drafting of specially tailored restrictive covenants.

Clients, other attorneys, and industry groups can depend on our attorneys to stay abreast of developing issues. Members of the Trade Secret and Non-Compete Specialty Team frequently disperse the latest information on business competition topics and share their experience-based knowledge and guidance via a variety of media, including webinars, client alerts, and articles in industry publications.
