Transfer pricing is the number one tax issue for multinationals, as auditors regularly challenge taxpayers for not paying a 'fair share' of income taxes by shifting profits offshore. Companies are caught in the middle with little clear guidance.

Join experts from Butzel Long and Clayton & McKervey as they explore recent transfer pricing developments impacting global companies of all sizes. The team will also address red flags for auditors.

Whether you are new to transfer pricing or regularly work on multinational issues, participants in this practically-focused webinar will have an opportunity to review best practices for managing transfer pricing risks.
