Butzel Long attorney George B. Donnini named to Michigan Lawyers Weekly's Up & Coming Lawyers

12.30.2008

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

DETROIT, Mich. – Butzel Long attorney and shareholder George B. Donnini has been named to Michigan Lawyers Weekly's "Up & Coming Lawyers:" A Salute to the Rising Stars of the Michigan Bar. A profile of Mr. Donnini ran in the December 8, 2008 edition of Michigan Lawyers Weekly, which featured 10 rising stars of the Michigan bar. Michigan Lawyers Weekly invited its readers to nominate lawyers who, early in their careers, are establishing enviable records. According to Michigan Lawyers Weekly, the lawyers stood out not only for their past accomplishments, but also for their promise of future achievements.

Based in Butzel Long's Detroit office, Mr. Donnini is a litigator whose practice is focused on white-collar criminal defense, SEC enforcement actions, corporate investigations, as well as general commercial litigation. Due to the expansive nature of fraud claims, he routinely counsels his clients through both criminal charges and civil liability/enforcement actions. Accordingly, Mr. Donnini must manage complex litigation involving multiple adversaries, multiple jurisdictions, and interrelated issues.

He has experience in a broad array of criminal and civil cases, representing clients at both the trial and appellate levels in federal and state courts across the country. He has varied and significant experience representing clients in criminal cases involving allegations of revenue recognition, securities, and tax fraud, theft of trade secrets, insider trading, stock options back-dating, health care, environmental and mortgage fraud. He also has conducted several internal investigations for both private and publicly traded companies. He aggressively, creatively, and successfully represents clients in a wide variety of federal and state criminal matters.
