Butzel Long attorney named a Fellow of the Detroit Metropolitan Bar Association Foundation

11.27.2013

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

DETROIT, Mich. – Butzel Long attorney and shareholder Daniel R. W. Rustmann has been named a Fellow of the Detroit Metropolitan Bar Association Foundation. New Fellows were honored during the Foundation's ninth annual Dennis W. Archer Public Service Award event on November 6 in Detroit.

The Detroit Metropolitan Bar Association Foundation's Fellows program recognizes members who have made exceptional contributions to the practice of law and who are exemplary lawyers in the community. Fellows make a significant, ten-year commitment to the Foundation and are named either Patron Fellows, Supporting Fellows, or Fellows.

Based in Butzel Long's Detroit office, Rustmann's practice has been devoted principally to litigation. He has handled cases in a wide variety of substantive areas, including UCC supply chain litigation, sales representative commission disputes, non-compete disputes, shareholder disputes, and other complex, commercial litigation. He frequently advises clients on contract negotiation and drafting.

As a co-chair of Butzel Long's Global Automotive Practice Group, Rustmann has developed significant experience representing tier 1 and tier 2 automotive suppliers in various matters.

Rustmann is a graduate of Valparaiso University School of Law (J.D., 1989, with distinction) and Valparaiso University (B.A., 1986).
