

IN THE NEWS

---

Butzel Long hosts free webinar on March 25 – An Employer's Guide to the New Families First Coronavirus Response Act

3.23.2020

DETROIT, Mich. – The Families First Coronavirus Response Act will help many American families dealing with the impact by providing increased funding for food, Medicaid, unemployment assistance, and coverage for testing. However, it also significantly impacts small and medium businesses through the Emergency Family and Medical Leave Expansion Act (EFMLA) and the Emergency Paid Sick Leave Act (EPSLA), requiring certain employers to front the costs of paid leave to employees affected by coronavirus in various ways.

Attorneys from Butzel Long law firm's Labor and Employment Group are hosting a free informational webinar from 9–10 a.m. on Wednesday, March 25, 2020. This webinar will help businesses break down the Act to determine what they need to do to prepare and what the expectations are when the Act becomes effective April 2, 2020. To register, visit www.butzel.com/events.

The webinar will answer and discuss key questions including:

- What employers are covered and what employers are exempt?
- How are an employer's paid time off policies impacted?
- Are employees who are unable to work because their children's schools are closed eligible for leave benefits under both EFMLA and EPSLA?

Presenters include:

Related Services

Employee Benefits

Labor and Employment

IN THE NEWS

---

- Brett Miller is chair of the firm's Employment Practices Liability Insurance Sub-Practice. He focuses his practice on employment and labor law.
- Brett Rendeiro concentrates his practice in labor and employment law and has evolved into a trial advocate with substantial experience in employment and complex commercial disputes.