Butzel Long sponsors a Tiger as part of the Children's Charities Coalition "TigerTown"

DETROIT, Mich. – In support of the Children's Charities Coalition, Butzel Long is sponsoring a Tiger as part of the group's "TigerTown" fundraiser. Butzel Long's Tiger is decorated with a Buddha theme and is nicknamed "Bu Bu." Butzel Long chose a Buddha theme in celebration of the firm's growing China practice and its China Alliance. The Butzel Long Tiger is on display at the northwest corner of Merrill and Old Woodward. TigerTown features 81 fiberglass tiger sculptures displayed throughout Birmingham, Bloomfield and the metro Detroit area. An auction will take place on June 28, 2007 at The Community House. Proceeds from TigerTown will benefit the outreach programs of the members of the Children's Charities Coalition including the Child Abuse and Neglect Council of Oakland County, The Community House, Orchards Children's Services and Variety, the Children's Charity.

The TigerTown mission is to contribute to the vitality of the greater Detroit metropolitan area through supporting regional public art and culture, and to raise needed funds for the outreach activities of the four member charities.
