

IN THE NEWS

Butzel attorney William Kraus interviewed in dBusiness magazine on protecting data through blockchain

10.6.2021

Protecting Data

Blockchain technology, a digital record-keeping software platform, is emerging as a serious deterrent to hackers, whether foreign or domestic.

By Norm Sinclair

In a recent interview discussing last year's massive SolarWinds hacks of multiple government agencies and major corporations, Phil Abraham, a cybersecurity and technology expert from Northville, warned that America's infrastructure, public and private, was wide open for foreign hackers.

Click here to read the complete article in dBusiness Magazine.

Related Services

Cybersecurity and Privacy
Specialty Team

Emerging Technology Specialty
Team