Butzel hosts 34th Annual Labor, Employment, Benefits and Immigration Law Forum

DETROIT, Mich. – Employers are navigating a revolving door of new challenges that continue to evolve from the pandemic. From managing a remote workforce to rethinking employee benefits, employers need a playbook to keep up with new developments.

Butzel is hosting its 34th Annual Labor, Employment, Employee Benefits and Immigration Law Forum in a (virtual) format and will focus on key legal matters from 8 a.m. to Noon on Wednesday, November 17, 2021. The program will provide attendees with information on a wide variety of labor, employment, employee benefits, and immigration issues facing employers, with a focus on Covid related issues.

The registration fee is $49 per person. Presentation recordings will be made available to those who have registered for the event. For more information or to register online, visit event. For inquiries, contact Nairi Chopjian at chopjian@butzel.com.

This year's virtual seminar will have a slightly different format. Butzel is asking participants to register for each session individually to give more flexibility in scheduling and to better distribute the continuing education credits. Attendees will be eligible for 1-3 HRCI and SHRM CE Credits, pending approval.

Attendees should register for the "Welcome and Introduction" session and then register for one webinar in each Workshop Session.

"We have developed seven targeted workshops to address the most pressing workplace issues," said Daniel B. Tukul, Chair of Butzel's Labor, Employment and Employee Benefits Department. "Our four-hour webinar is packed with a lot of important content
