ANN ARBOR, Mich. – Butzel attorney and shareholder Claudia Rast will be a featured panelist during a free webinar titled, “Governance in the Cloud – Managing Data Regular,” from Noon to 1 p.m. (EST) on Friday, November 18, 2022. The program is part of the FinCloud Fridays webinar series. To register, visit: https://www.brighttalk.com/webcast/16947/561882?utm_source=cvent

The webinar will address major changes around the world, delve into data governance issues and how they may impact the financial industry, and provide some predictions of upcoming trends.

Rast, who chairs Butzel’s Intellectual Property, Cybersecurity and Emerging Technology Practice Department, blends her expertise in law, business, and science to assist companies in their strategic use of technology, counseling clients in the areas of privacy, cybersecurity, data security and governance, intellectual property licensing and registration, and the forensic preservation and analysis of electronically stored information.

Moreover, Rast was appointed to a three-year term to co-chair the American Bar Association (ABA) Cybersecurity Legal Task Force in 2020. Prior to that, she had been appointed to successive one-year terms since 2013.

She also is an experienced environmental lawyer, focusing on alternative energy and sustainability practices, including work on the development of a global Rule of Law Index for environment and energy with the World Justice Project.
