LANSING, Mich. – Butzel attorney Garrett Koger is one of 25 attorneys in the state named to Michigan Lawyers Weekly's 2024 Class of "Up & Coming Lawyers." Attorneys will be honored during a luncheon on April 26, 2024 and profiled in an upcoming edition of Michigan Lawyers Weekly.

Attorneys recognized for this honor have excelled in the profession and are standouts among their peers – all in their first 10 years of practice. These lawyers are establishing themselves as future leaders through their ambition and accomplishments, and their drive and dedication to the practice of law.

Koger has extensive litigation experience which includes service as the chief assistant prosecutor for Clinton County, Michigan, and as an assistant attorney general for the State of Michigan. He litigates in both the state and federal courts, including through appeal.

He counsels candidates on election and campaign matters and encourages a proactive approach to statutory compliance to ensure smooth access to the ballot. Should the need for litigation arise on a campaign matter, Koger is comfortable with what is often the fast-paced nature of election law litigation. His experience includes representing multiple candidates up through the Michigan Supreme Court.

Koger is admitted to practice in Michigan, U.S. Bankruptcy Court, Western District of Michigan, U.S. Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit, U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Michigan and U.S. District Court for the Western District of Michigan. He is a member of the State Bar of Michigan, Republican National Lawyers Association and Federalist Society.
