ANN ARBOR, Mich. – Butzel attorney Jennifer Dukarski is a speaker in demand! She will participate in a panel discussion at the 25th Annual Connect2Car: Mobility 2050 Conference on January 7, 2025. The event coincides with the Consumer Electronics Show in Las Vegas and is presented by the MEA, SAE International, COVESA and MEMA.

Moreover, Dukarski is among industry experts who will be featured during the Detroit Auto Show's Mobility Global Forum, which will take place from January 15-16, 2025 at Huntington Place in Detroit. She will participate in a panel discussion on January 16 presented by the US Patent and Trademark Office. The topic of the panel will be "The Intersection of IP and EV Technologies."

She leads Butzel's Connected and Autonomous Mobility Team. Her automotive expertise as a former design engineer, Six Sigma master black belt, continuous improvement lead champion, and quality manager gives her a unique perspective on balancing the legal issues and business applications of emerging automotive technology.

Dukarski focuses her legal practice where technology, mobility and communications meet. A leader in the area of electrified, connected and automated vehicles, she negotiated some of the first robotaxi agreements in the world. A champion of the responsible use of AI, Dukarski regularly advises and teaches on AI risk mitigation. She was named one of the 30 Women Defining the Future of Technology by Warner Communications for her innovative thoughts and contributions to the tech industry.
