ANN ARBOR, Mich. – Jennifer Dukarski, Butzel attorney and shareholder, will be featured during the Institute for Continuing Legal Education (ICLE)'s Health Law Institute on Friday, March 15, 2024 in Plymouth.

Dukarski will co-present a program with Lauren Williens, in-house counsel, Henry Ford Health. The presentation is titled, "Artificial Intelligence in Health Care: It's Happening. It's Here. Now What?" The session will include an overview of machine learning, language models (LLMs), rule-based expert systems, precision medicine, and challenges health care will face when adopting AI.

She focuses her practice at the intersection of technology and communications with an emphasis on emerging and disruptive issues: digital media and content, cybersecurity and privacy, artificial intelligence, and connected, electrified and autonomous cars.

Dukarski has become a national leader in legal issues facing emerging technology in multiple sectors including challenging intellectual property issues surrounding data, artificial intelligence and automated systems.

A self-titled "recovering engineer," Dukarski was named one of the 30 Women Defining the Future of Technology in January 2020 by Warner Communications for her innovative thoughts and contributions to the tech industry.
