DETROIT, Mich. – While Michigan is deeply rooted in the automotive industry, it also is ranked nationally in the defense and defense aerospace industries – areas where Butzel's Aerospace & Defense Industry team excels. Butzel has extensive experience with international aerospace companies across a variety of practice areas addressing a myriad of legal, business, and regulatory issues.

Notably, Butzel will be represented at a top industry event – the Michigan Defense Exposition (MDEX) and Opportunities Conference April 20-21, 2022 at Macomb Community College in Warren, Mich. Butzel is among more than 75 organizations exhibiting at the conference.

“A&D is an evolving industry facing intricate global challenges,” said Beth Gotthelf, co-chair of Butzel's A&D Industry team. “Our proficiency in this space spans the critical areas necessary to navigate the specialized and often complex regulatory environment associated with this industry.”
