

PUBLICATIONS

How Do Unions Organize a Health Care Employer?

6.1.2014

The health care industry includes both unionized and non-unionized employers. Unionized employers may have established and successful working and collective bargaining relationships with their employees' labor unions. For non-unionized employers, staying union-free may be a goal, so understanding how and why union organizing activity starts is important.

To read the complete article, please click the link under "Related Files."

Related Services

Health Care

Health Care Industry Team

Traditional Labor