“Battle over Net Neutrality What Comes Next?”

Publication

2.2024

Stephen Goodman, Counsel to Butzel, based in the firm's Washington D.C. office, has been practicing telecommunications law since 1983. Featured in the February 2024 issue of Public Utilities Fortnightly, Mr. Goodman expresses there is a good chance that an FCC decision reclassifying Internet access service as a Title II service and imposing numerous new regulations would be overturned by the Courts, thus presumably restarting yet another battle at the FCC over Net Neutrality.
