Health Care Reform: Business, Technology and Regulatory Developments

Following the Supreme Court's ruling—and with 2014 fast approaching—health care reform discussions are shifting from the theoretical to the practical and from legal hypotheticals to business and design realities. This session will focus on the business implications of health care reform, including the impact on hospital systems and strategies to address the challenges. The panel also will cover regulatory and implementation challenges associated with designing and building insurance exchanges, and will discuss on-the-ground (pilot) accountable care organizations from both provider and payor perspectives.

Moderator: Stephen T. Moore

Speakers: Robert E. Wagner, Howard Bolnick, Consulting Actuary and Edward J. McGrath, Principal, Health Care Futures L.P.

10:15 a.m. – 11:00 a.m. Breakout Session 1

Business Track: Best and Worst Practices in Hospital/Physician Alliances, Including Advanced Physician Contracting and Compensation Models

This breakout session will focus on key issues related to hospital and physician alliances. This presentation will also provide an overview of the key regulations, coverage guidelines, and compliance issues which impact alliances between hospitals, physicians, and physician practice groups. New trends in hospital and physician alliances, compensation models, and hospital relationships with physicians and physician group practices will be discussed to provide the audience with an overview of the current landscape. The speakers will also provide examples of hospital and physician alliances, advanced contracting, and various compensation models to identify best and worst practices.

Speakers: Roy M. Bossen and Jayme R. Matchinski

Regulatory Track: Regulatory Issues Facing Illinois Tax-Exempt Hospitals

In June of this year, the U.S. Department of the Treasury and the Internal Revenue Service issued proposed regulations to implement Sections 501(r)(4)-(6) of the Internal Revenue Code enacted by the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act of 2010. This session will highlight best practices for Illinois hospitals to satisfy new Financial Assistance Policy, Billing, and Collection requirements to receive and maintain Section 501(c)(3) federal tax-exemption status. Also in June, the Illinois General Assembly enacted a new standard that requires a hospital to show that the value of health care services it provides to low-income or underserved individuals exceeds its estimated property tax liability during each year for which it seeks to obtain or maintain a property tax exemption. This presentation will discuss the new standard in detail and the steps not-for-profit hospitals should take to earn property tax exemptions. Finally, with the Illinois FY 2013 state budget requiring a $1.6 billion cut in the Medicaid Program in an effort to fill a $2.7 billion budget hole, we will cover the numerous challenges facing both medical providers and Medicaid recipients.

Speakers: Michael P. Davidson, Victoria R. Glidden and Linnea L. Schramm

Business Track: Consolidation, Collaboration and Competition – An Antitrust Perspective for Today's Healthcare Industry

The structure of the health care industry is rapidly changing. Consolidation is occurring horizontally – including hospitals with hospitals, physicians with physicians – and vertically – including hospitals with physicians and hospitals with clinics. Different structures are being explored – mergers, joint ventures, contractual and other arrangements. Whether you are considering consolidation, have just completed a consolidation or are concerned about a competitor's consolidation, we will explore how the antitrust laws are applicable to all aspects of consolidation among various entities in the health care industry. We will discuss how antitrust laws are enforced by federal and state agencies, how antitrust laws are used by federal agencies, state agencies and competitors to challenge consolidations, how to increase your chances of avoiding an inquiry or convincing agencies to approve your transaction, and what to be aware of if your consolidation is challenged.

The first part of this session will focus on the recent developments concerning Board responsibilities: IRS requirements, PPACA's new rules, and industry standards.
