

Commercial Litigation

Hinshaw has one of the premier litigation practices in the United States. Our Commercial Litigation Group includes lawyers in offices from coast to coast. With additional resources in our bankruptcy, catastrophic litigation, employment, insurance coverage, intellectual property, professional liability, products liability and toxic tort groups, the firm has a significant number of experienced litigators. As a result, we can offer you an extraordinary breadth and depth of experience in handling business matters involving litigation.

We have successfully tried hundreds of cases to verdict, efficiently managed class action and multidistrict litigation, and won the day through creative dispositive motions, well-crafted trial strategies, and focused and effective appeals. We pride ourselves on advising clients in how to avoid litigation or how to resolve disputes without resorting to litigation. As national coordinating counsel in many high-profile litigations, we are accustomed to working on a team basis with corporate and local counsel. Whether it is a "bet-the-company" case, a complex financial dispute, or a more routine business conflict, our experienced litigators stand ready to serve your interests.

We have successfully represented clients in virtually all areas of litigation and in cases in many state and federal courts. Our lead trial counsel are seasoned attorneys, including several former U.S. Attorneys, as well as Fellows of the American College of Trial Lawyers, who take a hands on approach to developing trial strategy and matter resolutions.
