Brian Nevel has over a decade of experience representing large institutional clients in high-stakes creditors' rights litigation. He handles disputes involving federal and state consumer protection statutes, such as FCRA, RESPA, TILA, ICFA, and FDCPA. His practice includes highly contested RMBS and CMBS foreclosures, receiverships, and various complex commercial disputes. Additionally, Brian deals with title curative matters, landlord-tenant litigation, and building code violations.

Brian also counsels and assists clients in navigating intricate regulatory and compliance matters. He handles class certification challenges, conducts settlement negotiations, participates in arbitrations and mediations, and manages appeals.
