

Madeline Cook

Associate

700 12th Street, NW
Suite 700
Washington, D.C. 20005
212-655-3809
mcook@hinshawlaw.com

Madeline Cook's practice focuses on complex insurance coverage disputes and bad-faith litigation. She counsels insurers in all phases of litigation.

Prior to joining Hinshaw, Madeline worked for a DC-based boutique employment law firm. Here, Madeline handled disputes arising under state and federal anti-discrimination and anti-retaliation statutes, including Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the antiretaliation provisions of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002, and the antiretaliation provisions of the False Claims Act. She also handled whistleblower claims under the False Claims Act, through the FIRREA/FIAFEA whistleblower program, and through the SEC whistleblower program.

While in law school, Madeline served as the secretary for the Law Association for Women and was a member of the International Law in Domestic Courts journal.

Professional Affiliations

- District of Columbia Bar Association
- National Lawyers' Guild

Honors & Awards

- The George Washington University Law School
 - Law School and University Gold Recognition for pro bono service (250+ hours)

Publications

- Co-Author, "Chapter 8 Allocating Defense Costs," The Insurer's Duty to Defend: Issues and Analysis (ABA 2024)

Personal

Outside of the office, Madeline enjoys Pilates, skiing, and exploring the DC food scene.

Industries

Insurance & Reinsurance
Insurance Coverage

Education

J.D., The George Washington University Law School, 2020
B.A., Political Science, Seattle University, 2017

Admissions

District of Columbia
New York