Hinshaw Attorneys to Present on Joint Development Agreements and Protecting Intellectual Property

May 15, 2014
National (Webinar)

Hinshaw & Culbertson LLP attorneys Patrick Patras and Mark Suri will present the National Business Institute's webinar, "Joint Development Agreements: Protecting Intellectual Property" from 1:00 - 2:30 PM on Thursday, May 15. The group's presentation will discuss how protecting intellectual property is no easy task, and how when there are multiple parties involved in the development of intellectual property, the situation can become complicated. The webinar will also address how attorneys can draft strong joint development agreements that will protect their clients.
