Russ Klingaman to Present at Aerospace Big Data Conference in Miami

September 11, 2019

Miami, Florida

Hinshaw's Russ Klingaman—who focuses his practice on aviation and business law—will present at Aerospace Big Data Miami, an aviation conference scheduled for September 11 – 12, 2019. Hosted by FlightGlobal, the event will provide attendees with insights on how big data and predictive analytics are transforming aviation, specifically aircraft maintenance, repair, and overhaul (MRO).

A licensed pilot and aircraft owner, Klingaman will present "Legal Landscape: What Law and Best Practices are Emerging to Reflect the Big Data Environment?" He is also scheduled to serve on a panel titled "Panel Debate: How Can We Establish Infrastructure Solutions for Big Data to be Shared with Other Partners Efficiently and Securely?"
