

Events

The Intersection of Hate Speech and the First Amendment

Wednesday, December 20, 2023

Virtual

12:15 p.m. - 1:15 p.m.

Register Now!

Join Hinshaw attorney David Levitt as he discusses The Intersection of Hate Speech and the First Amendment.

Hate speech is one of the most important concerns of our times. It is commonly thought that hate speech is protected under the First Amendment, but is it? It turns out that, contrary to misconceptions, there are strong reasons to assert that hate speech is not protected speech, or at least less protected – and this program will explore that issue.

This program is co-sponsored by The Decalogue Society of Lawyers, Hinshaw & Culbertson LLP, and the DePaul College of Law Center for Jewish Law & Judaic Studies.

Hinshaw Speaker

David H. Levitt
Partner

CLE Credit

The Decalogue Society of Lawyers is providing Illinois CLE credit for attorneys who attend this webinar. Please be sure to include your ARDC number on the registration form. The Decalogue Society is accredited to issue CLE certificates for Illinois only. If you would like CLE credit in New York, New Jersey, or California, please respond “Yes” to the CLE question on the registration form. Once you receive your CLE certificate from the Decalogue Society, submit it to your respective state bar to request credit. CLE credit hours are not guaranteed and may vary from state to state.

Should you have any questions regarding CLE, please contact The Decalogue Society.

Attorneys

David H. Levitt

Questions

Please contact The Decalogue Society.

Register Now!