Tom Luetkemeyer Reviews Roadblocks Confronting FTC's Noncompete Rule in Illinois Road & Transportation Builders Association Newsletter

July 19, 2024

The Illinois Road & Transportation Builders Association (IRTBA) published an article authored by Tom Luetkemeyer in a recent Friday Facts member newsletter.

Luetkemeyer analyzed a decision by a U.S. District Court in Texas to temporarily halt the Federal Trade Commission's (FTC) Noncompete Rule. He discussed the ongoing controversy surrounding the FTC's rulemaking authority and the use of noncompete agreements, as well as the potential impact on businesses and workers.

The IRTBA article was adapted from a Hinshaw Employment Law Observer blog post that Luetkemeyer had previously authored.
