

News

Mitch Chargo Featured in Lucky Leaf Expo Newsletter Commenting on the Business Significance of the DEA's Decision to Reschedule Marijuana

August 19, 2024

In a recent edition of its e-newsletter, Lucky Leaf Expo quoted Hinshaw partner Mitchel Chargo about the significance of the historic drug policy decision by the Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) to reclassify marijuana from a Schedule I to a Schedule III drug. He commented on how this decision impacts the cannabis industry:

"The act of rescheduling marijuana will not legalize adult recreational cannabis use across the states. Nevertheless, it is a historic decision with wide-ranging and yet uncertain consequences that will deeply impact the cannabis industry."

Chargo also recently presented on the intersection of cannabis and commercial real estate at the Lucky Leaf Expo in Minneapolis, Minnesota, on April 25, 2024. Additionally, he addressed the significance of the DEA's reclassification in a legal bulletin.

Lucky Leaf Expo is a leading provider of B2B events for the evolving cannabis industry, offering valuable growth opportunities, networking, and insights for professionals across various sectors. The expo serves as a platform for visionaries in cultivation, extraction, retail, and more by sharing the latest research and trends for executives, entrepreneurs, and consumers interested in joining the cannabis industry.

Attorneys

Mitchel C. Chargo

Service Areas

Real Estate & Lending

Offices

Minneapolis