

News

Hinshaw Partners Sina Bahadoran and Eric A. Hiller Mentioned in Law360 Article, "Insurers Needn't Defend Anda In W.Va. 'Pill Mill' Suit"

March 9, 2015

Hinshaw & Culbertson LLP Partners Sina Bahadoran and Eric A. Hiller were recently mentioned in a Law360 article titled "Insurers Needn't Defend Anda In W.Va. 'Pill Mill' Suit." A Florida federal judge on Monday ruled Anda Inc. can't force Gemini Insurance Co., Travelers Property Casualty Co. of America and other insurers to defend it against West Virginia's claims the company contributed to an "epidemic" of prescription drug abuse by enabling "pill mill" pharmacies, as their policies don't cover the economic losses sought by the state.

Sina Bahadoran exclusively represents insurance companies in high profile insurance coverage litigation and market conduct (bad faith) matters throughout the United States. He focuses primarily on commercial general liability, errors and omissions (lawyers, agents, accountants), directors and officers, and employment practices liability policies.

Eric A. Hiller represents insurance companies in high profile insurance coverage litigation matters throughout the United States. He focuses primarily on commercial general liability, errors and omissions (lawyers, agents, accountants), directors and officers, and employment practices liability policies. Mr. Hiller also counsels clients regularly on claims handling, policy drafting, and product development.

Read the full article, "Insurers Needn't Defend Anda In W.Va. 'Pill Mill' Suit" on Law360's website. Please note a subscription is required to access the article.

Offices

Miami