

News

Russell Klingaman Discusses Drones and the Law With Milwaukee's Fox6 News

November 16, 2015

Russell A. Klingaman, a partner of Hinshaw & Culbertson LLP, discussed existing and evolving laws and guidelines regarding the commercial and recreational use of drones in a Fox6 News investigative report titled "Aerial Trespassing? Local Battle Over Drone Use Highlights Patchwork of Laws and Regulations." The segment aired during the Fox6 News 9:00 p.m. broadcast on November 15, 2015.

Mr. Klingaman — a leader of Hinshaw's Aviation Law Practice based in Milwaukee — helps members of the business and aviation communities manage and deal with their legal matters. His strengths include resolving disputes, reducing risks and leveraging opportunities. As a licensed pilot and aircraft owner, he has unique insights in aviation-related legal matters including products liability, pilot mistakes, mechanical problems, Federal Aviation Administration enforcement actions, transactions and many others. Mr. Klingaman also has substantial experience dealing with issues involving intellectual property including trade secrets, copyrights and trademarks.

Watch the full report, "Aerial Trespassing? Local Battle Over Drone Use Highlights Patchwork of Laws and Regulations," on the Fox6 website.

Offices

Milwaukee