Crain's Chicago Business Obtains Insights From Three Hinshaw Lawyers on Steven Spielberg's Latest Movie, Starring Tom Hanks

January 20, 2016

It is not every day that an insurance lawyer is the lead character in a Hollywood motion picture. But it is hardly surprising that when this happened — in Steven Spielberg's movie "Bridge of Spies," starring Tom Hanks — Crain's Chicago Business reporter Claire Bushey turned to Hinshaw & Culbertson LLP Chairman Kevin Joseph Burke and Chicago-based Insurance Services Practice Group partners Michael M. Marick and Scott M. Seaman to put the role of insurance lawyers into proper context.

Read the article, "Insurance Lawyers Get to Wear the White Hat in 'Bridge of Spies,'" which was published on the Crain's Chicago Business website on January 19, 2016.
