With a focus on corporate transactions, project permitting, and regulatory matters, he aids in developing sound legal strategies for clients seeking guidance in the complex realm of environmental and energy law.

Mr. Quintana-Soler gained valuable experience as a Summer Associate at another local law firm. During his tenure, he served as a law clerk, where his responsibilities included conducting extensive legal research and contributing to the formulation of legal strategies for trial litigation.

As a law student, he actively engaged in various extracurricular activities. Notably, he assumed the role of Secretary of Federal Bar Association, UPR Chapter, for the 2021-2022 term.

He secured the 3rd highest score in the September 2023 Puerto Rico Bar Examination from a pool of 431 test-takers.
