

Private Client Services

Business executives, elected officials, celebrities and other high profile and affluent individuals are among Plunkett Cooney's growing family of clients seeking, high quality, discreet and personalized legal services.

Many of these individuals work with the firm either directly or through their insurance providers. As private risk panel counsel for leading property and casualty insurance providers, our attorneys manage high profile and high exposure litigation to successful conclusion.

Our attorneys understand the need to protect the identity and brand of their clients by coordinating with personal representatives and other advisors to address sensitive legal issues and to resolve conflicts quickly and discreetly. Our attorneys also have the experience, expertise and temperament to aggressively litigate a matter, when necessary, to achieve a particular outcome.

Plunkett Cooney has built an impressive track record in the areas of litigation and criminal defense. Our attorneys have successfully represented clients in matters involving employment actions, motor vehicle negligence, personal injury, and property damage and loss, among others.

In addition to litigation, our attorneys work with their clients to address personal and financial issues related to estate planning, probate matters, family law, closely-held businesses and other personal holdings and investments.