

Tax Law

Plunkett Cooney's Tax Law Practice Group provides comprehensive services to businesses and individuals in this complex and ever-changing area of the law.

The firm's services include representation for individuals and businesses facing Internal Revenue Service (IRS) or state collections, tax audits, tax appeals and litigation, individual and business tax planning, and everything in between.

Members of the firm's Tax Law Practice Group include attorneys with specialized knowledge of tax law and diverse work experience. This unique combination of legal acumen and insider IRS and state knowledge helps set Plunkett Cooney apart and allows its attorneys to tackle even the most challenging taxation cases.