Howard B. Goldman is a partner in the firm's Business Transactions & Planning Practice Group who takes an advisory and proactive approach to understanding his clients' operations and industries in order to enhance profitability and increase business.

For over 35 years, Mr. Goldman has focused his practice on negotiating and representing borrowers, lenders, landlords and tenants in all aspects of real estate transactions. He handles finance, sale-leaseback and commercial lease and build to suit transactions, and he assists with the purchase and financing of commercial properties and the creation and renovation of corporate campuses and relocations. Mr. Goldman also negotiated with lenders regarding COVID-19 and its impact on hospitality and retail properties, and he handles real estate matters on behalf of cannabis industry clients.

For clients who work with governmental entities, Mr. Goldman has purchased and developed property from economic development agencies (both automotive and non-automotive) with governmental incentives and financed and sold multi-family real property and obtained entitlements.
