The members of Plunkett Cooney's Transportation Law Practice Group have more help tending to the legal needs of its auto liability clients with the recent addition of attorney James W. Lamb.

A member of the firm's Grand Rapids office, Lamb focuses his practice in the areas of Michigan No-Fault law and motor vehicle negligence litigation, which includes personal injury protection claims and investigations of suspicious and fraudulent claims for health benefits.

Lamb received his law degree from Michigan State University College of Law in 2020. While there, he served as a Managing Editor of the Michigan State Law Review and as a law clerk for the University's Office of the General Counsel. He received his undergraduate degree from Michigan State's James Madison College in 2017.

Plunkett Cooney's Transportation Law Practice Group includes the talents of more than 40 attorneys who provide an array of litigation and risk management services, including expertise in the areas of first- and third-party auto liability, cross-border claims with Canada, trucking liability, fraud investigations and emergency accident response.

Established in 1913, Plunkett Cooney is a leading provider of business and litigation services to clients in the private and public sectors. The firm employs approximately 150 attorneys in seven Michigan cities, Chicago, Illinois, Columbus, Ohio and Indianapolis, Indiana. Plunkett Cooney has achieved the highest rating (AV) awarded by Martindale-Hubbell, a leading peer review rated directory of law firms internationally.
