Attorney Hailey A. Wolf recently joined the Torts & Litigation and Transportation Law practice groups of Plunkett Cooney, one of the Midwest's oldest and most accomplished law firms.

An associate in the firm's Bloomfield Hills office, Wolf defends individuals, businesses, insurance carriers and municipalities in cases involving slip, trip and fall claims and first- and third-party motor vehicle No-Fault benefits, including personal injury protection claims.

In addition, Wolf has experience with immigration law matters. She assists individuals with U-visas and H-1B visas and cancellation of removal.

Wolf received her law degree, cum laude, from Wayne State University Law School. While there, she served as assistant editor of the Wayne Law Review and chancellor of the Jessup International Moot Court. She was also a member of the Women's Law Caucus. Wolf received her undergraduate degree, cum laude, from the James Madison College at Michigan State University in 2021.

The members of Plunkett Cooney's Torts and Litigation Practice Group focus on the defense of all manner of civil litigation, including construction disputes, motor vehicle negligence, liquor liability, product liability, toxic torts and premises liability, including slip, trip and falls. The firm's clients include the policyholders of some of the world's largest insurance providers and other businesses that become the targets of litigation.

Plunkett Cooney's Transportation Law Practice Group includes attorneys in the firm's four-state footprint who provide an array of litigation and risk management services, including expertise in the areas of first- and third-party motor vehicle liability, cross-border claims with Canada, trucking liability, fraud investigations and emergency accident response.

Established in 1913, Plunkett Cooney is a leading provider of business law and litigation services to clients in the private and public sectors. The firm employs attorneys in seven Michigan cities, Chicago, Illinois; Columbus, Ohio; and Indianapolis, Indiana.
