- Serves as trademark counsel to Surrey Services for Seniors, a nonprofit organization offering comprehensive resources, services, and activities for older adults.

REPRESENTATIVE MATTERS

- Manages worldwide trademark portfolios for multiple clients, with attendant counseling related thereto.
- Responsible for international enforcement of client trademarks through the use of cease and desist letters, domain name disputes, mediation, and litigation.
- Defended a longtime client in trade dress litigation involving the shape of a food product. Successfully prevailed on a declaratory judgment action, affirmed on appeal to the Third Circuit Court of Appeals, which led to the cancellation of an incontestable trademark registration of the opposing party.
- Defended a family restaurant business against a trademark infringement claim from other family members. Successfully negotiated a settlement between the parties.
- Represented a client in trademark litigation involving energy drinks against a vodka manufacturer. Defeated a motion to dismiss, which ultimately led to a favorable settlement for the client.
- Represented a client in trademark litigation involving sports accessories, which ended in a successful settlement for the client. Prior to settlement, successfully moved to dismiss a declaratory judgment action filed by the infringing party, allowing the client to litigate in the client's choice of forum.
- Represented a longtime client in trade dress litigation involving playground equipment. Defeated two motions to dismiss, which ultimately led to a settlement in favor of the client.
- Represented a well-known retailer in defense of copyright infringement. After our client prevailed on a motion for partial summary judgment on damages and costs and succeeded in requiring the plaintiff to post a bond, the district court dismissed the case, and all fees and costs were awarded to our client. The decision was later affirmed by the Second Circuit Court of Appeals.
- Represented a publisher in a copyright infringement claim. After our client prevailed on all liability issues at trial, the district court awarded the client statutory damages and attorney's fees.

PRACTICE FOCUS

- Portfolio management
- Trademark and copyright enforcement
