BIOGRAPHY

Neali Lambert is a dedicated family law attorney who helps clients navigate life's most personal and challenging legal matters with compassion and clarity. She focuses her practice on divorce, custody, support, and related domestic relations issues, guiding individuals and families through transitions with both advocacy and empathy. Known for her practical approach and strong communication skills, Neali works closely with clients to protect their rights while striving for resolutions that support long-term stability and well-being.

Neali earned her J.D. from Baylor University School of Law, ranked third in the nation for trial advocacy, where she honed her litigation skills through one of the most rigorous courtroom training programs in the country.

Following graduation and prior to joining RCCB, Neali worked as an associate attorney for a family law firm in Dallas, Texas, where she gained extensive hands-on experience managing high-conflict, high-stakes, and high-net-worth family law matters. Neali counsels clients drawing on her broad range of experience in representing clients in various complex family law matters, including divorce, complex property divisions, child and spousal support, child custody disputes, enforcements and modifications of final orders, domestic violence issues, and the drafting and enforcement of marital agreements.
