Royer Cooper Cohen Braunfeld Names New Partner and Counsel Amid Increased Growth

Timothy J. Levy is promoted to Partner and Michael Goldberg to Counsel

Royer Cooper Cohen Braunfeld LLC (RCCB), a law firm offering a distinctive combination of practical business acumen, legal expertise and entrepreneurial passion, today announced the promotion of Timothy Levy to Partner and Michael Goldberg to Counsel. Tim and Michael both reside in the firm's Conshohocken office. The promotions were effective as of January 1, 2019.

"After another incredible year of firm growth, we wanted to recognize the contribution of Tim and Michael to our ongoing success," said RCCB Managing Partner, John E. Royer, Jr. "These promotions are a reflection of the accomplishments they have made in their time at the firm, both with their clients and as mentors to their colleagues."

Tim Levy is an attorney in RCCB's Corporate & Business Group. He has more than 20 years of experience as an attorney counseling entrepreneurs, investors and executives in addition to holding various C-Level Executive roles. Levy's practice at RCCB focuses on representing emerging and middle-market technology and healthcare companies, as well as investors in venture capital, private equity and M&A transactions. He also counsels clients on general corporate matters, corporate governance, intellectual property, employment and strategic issues. His practice covers a wide range of industry sectors including Internet and eCommerce, AdTech, FinTech, Healthcare IT and certain bricks and mortar industries.

"Because of RCCB's entrepreneurial culture, over the past three years our firm has proven to be a great platform for both my practice and my clients," said Levy. "It is truly a special place to practice law, made so because of my fantastic colleagues. I am thrilled with the new opportunity they have given me."

Michael Goldberg is an attorney in the Corporate & Business and Real Estate Groups. He works with his clients across both practice groups on private equity and real estate financing, commercial leases and real estate transactions, commercial and residential development, corporate counseling, business formation, and mergers & acquisitions.

"I am truly humbled by this promotion opportunity," said Goldberg. "Engaging with and learning from my colleagues at RCCB over the past three years has been a great experience. Their support and guidance have made my advancement possible. RCCB is the law firm of the future, and I am thrilled to be a part of it."
