We are pleased to share that Royer Cooper Cohen Braunfeld LLC (RCCB) has been ranked 10th globally for M&A volume in the 2025 IsraelDesks “Legally Israel 100” rankings, a notable achievement among a broad field of international law firms serving Israeli clients.

In addition, David Gitlin — leader of RCCB’s Israel practice — was recognized as a “Notable Practitioner,” reflecting his active role in facilitating cross-border Israel-related transactions and reinforcing the firm’s strong ties within the Israeli legal market.

This ranking underscores RCCB’s continued commitment to serving Israeli and U.S./Israeli clients with precision, responsiveness, and deep understanding of both jurisdictions — from M&A and private equity to IP, tax, and international business matters.
