

WHAT PHILADELPHIA AREA BUSINESSES NEED TO KNOW ABOUT PREPARING FOR WORKPLACE REOPENING

SPEAKING ENGAGEMENT, WEBINAR - WILLIAM B. DUFF, ALEXANDER J. NASSAR, JULY 2020

As businesses in Philadelphia and surrounding counties move to re-open physical operations, RCCB provides guidance to help you understand factors to consider in reopening the workplace. It is important to keep in mind that state and local governments frequently adjust guidance as the COVID-19 situation evolves. For example, just on July 15, 2020, the Pennsylvania Governor's Office issued an order that teleworking is required "unless not possible," which is a more stringent directive than was previously in place for counties once they achieved the "Green" phase of re-opening. The legal landscape includes a plethora of laws and regulations, and the considerations are complex. RCCB is helping many employers with their work at home/back to the office policies and plans, so please do not hesitate to contact us.
