Amanda Zablocki is a trusted legal and strategic advisor to healthcare organizations across the country, helping them to achieve their goals while navigating a dynamic regulatory landscape.

Areas of Practice

Amanda leads complex healthcare deals, including mergers and acquisitions, joint ventures and strategic partnerships, corporate reorganizations, and value-based care arrangements. She routinely advises clients on a range of healthcare and nonprofit regulatory matters, including fraud, waste, and abuse, the corporate practice of medicine, nonprofit law, tax exemption, corporate governance, and compliance matters. Amanda began her career as a commercial litigator, and she brings that experience to bear when advocating her clients' positions, counseling her clients in connection with actual and potential disputes, and defending clients before government audits and investigations.

Amanda's clients include health plans and health insurers, hospitals, academic medical centers, digital health and healthcare technology companies, integrated healthcare delivery systems, pharmaceutical and life sciences companies, rare disease organizations, independent practice associations, physician practices, management services organizations, value-based enterprises, care management organizations, and 501(c)(3) organizations.

At Sheppard Mullin, Amanda has devoted substantial time towards supporting the recruitment, retention, and advancement of women in the legal industry, serving as Co-Chair of the New York Women Lawyers' Group (WLG) for several years before joining the firm's WLG National Leadership Council. In her role as Chair of the firm's New York Recruiting Committee, Amanda is proud to cultivate the next generation of attorneys through the firm's highly ranked summer associate program.

Amanda co-founded and serves as Co-Chair of Sheppard Mullin's Women in Healthcare Leadership Collaborative, an exclusive initiative that provides support to women professionals in the healthcare and life sciences industries.

Honors

Ms. Zablocki was a member of the pro bono team at Sheppard Mullin receiving the 2011 Frankel Award from Human Rights First for their successful representation of Abdalmageed Haroun, a prominent human rights activist and former Sudanese prisoner. In the Sudan, Mr. Haroun's work focused on women's rights, the plight of internally displaced refugees, and the victims of the conflict in Darfur. As a result of his selfless and heroic efforts, Mr. Haroun was detained for months, persecuted, tortured, and threatened with death by the Sudanese government, forcing him to flee the country. The firm represented Mr. Haroun in connection with his application for asylum in the United States.
