Krissa Webb is an associate in the Corporate Practice Group in the firm's Washington, D.C. office and is a member of the firm's Healthcare Team.

Areas of Practice

Krissa is an experienced health care attorney who advises health care providers and other health care-related organizations on a broad range of strategic transaction and regulatory compliance matters. Her clients include regional and national health systems, single- and multi-specialty physician groups and ambulatory surgery centers, among others.

Krissa works with nonprofit, for-profit, and private equity-backed clients on strategic affiliations, merger and acquisition transactions, restructurings, joint ventures and outsourcing arrangements. She assists the firm's health care clients in growing, divesting, and restructuring their clinical and business operations with the goal of improving efficiency, performance and compliance and ensuring our clients maintain a competitive edge in an ever-changing health care marketplace.
