Maximilian Fuery is an associate in the Corporate Practice Group in the firm's San Francisco office.

Areas of Practice

Maximilian's practice focuses on advising public and private clients on corporate transactional matters, including domestic and cross-border mergers and acquisitions, venture capital financings, private equity transactions, joint ventures and corporate governance. He provides legal and strategic guidance to startups, growth-stage companies and venture capital investors in a variety of industries. Maximilian represents investor- and company-side clients on venture capital, growth equity, and other capital raising transactions.

As part of his work within the Healthcare team, Maximilian works with clients across various sectors, including healthcare providers, payors, and managed care entities. Maximilian is committed to helping clients navigate the complexities of healthcare regulations and transactional matters, with a particular interest in the evolving trends toward value-based care and risk-sharing arrangements.
