Ryan Krueger is a partner in the Labor and Employment Practice Group in the firm's Los Angeles office.

Areas of Practice

Ryan leverages his significant trial experience and thought leadership to help California employers with all types of employment litigation and advice issues. He specializes in labor and employment matters on behalf of employers, including defending wage and hour class actions and PAGA matters, defending employment discrimination, wrongful termination, and sexual harassment claims, and counseling employers regarding California and federal employment law issues. He has experience in all aspects of employment litigation, including brief writing and oral argument, taking and defending depositions, and negotiating settlements. He has also handled multiple trials and arbitrations (including 6 jury trials), and argued before the California Court of Appeal.

Ryan also provides advice and counsel to clients regarding a wide variety of employment issues, including wage and hour issues, terminations, employee handbooks and other policies, employment agreements, and separation agreements.

Ryan has also authored several articles and publications, including a book recently cited by the California Supreme Court.
