

A Year in the Life of a Development Deal: Land Use Impacts on Real Estate Transactions

Crowne Plaza Union Square, San Francisco, CA
12.04.2007

This seminar will provide you with legal and practical insight into the process of acquiring and entitling land in California. This complex and frequently litigious process will be explored from start to finish. This seminar will cover finding the site, making a deal, identifying regulatory and functional constraints, and obtaining land use approval. We will tap into the knowledge of attorneys and consultants with broad-ranging experience in California real estate development projects to provide you with a comprehensive understanding of the process.
