Companies need to understand how to protect their trade secrets from misappropriation in this new age of “work-from-home” and routine video-conferencing for meetings. Otherwise, a company’s proprietary information – upon which it may depend for its competitive edge—may be lost. You will be shocked by what you have forgotten to think about in these chaotic times. We will offer some potential “best practices” to reduce the risk of misappropriation.

Panelists are Rebecca Edelson: Sheppard Mullin and Robert Guite: Sheppard Mullin, two litigation partners from Sheppard Mullin.
