About: NextGen would like to invite you to a Lunch & Learn featuring Wynter Deagle of Troutman Pepper, Jessica Gross of Sheppard Mullin and Ford Winslow of ICE Cyber Security. With 1 in 4 employees working from home indefinitely, some companies platooning their employees, and others committing to a full in-house workforce, companies are at an even greater risk of a breach. Threat actors are taking advantage of the changing landscape and leveraging next generation hacking techniques. This in turn has been dramatically impacting the cost and scope of cyber insurance coverage. This panel of experts will discuss privacy and data security associated with returning to work and other critical trends seen in 2021 thus far.
