

Building Better Worlds

02.15.2022

Understanding where we're heading – discussing the ideas, products and regulations that are building our shared blockchain futures.

Sheppard Mullin Partner, Jim Gatto will be part of the Will industry self-regulation work? panel.

The panel takes on a topic of considerable concern throughout the digital asset industry. With governments unable to assess the impact of cryptocurrencies various approaches are emerging around the world. Meanwhile many inside the industry are calling for crypto exchanges to regulate themselves. Addressing these questions, the panel will examine whether guidelines and a code of conduct can be broadly agreed upon and whether they will be sufficient to drive widespread adoption of these new forms of value exchange.
