Join experts and industry leaders from health plans and hospital systems across the country for a Summit on Value Based Care, hosted by Sheppard Mullin's Women in Healthcare Leadership Collaborative (WHLC) in our New York City office.

In the months leading up to the in-person event, we invite attendees to participate in a virtual series where attendees will learn foundational concepts of value-based care and have an opportunity to meet other attendees.

This Summit will include expert-led presentations as well as breakout "think tank" and white-board sessions where attendees will learn from and brainstorm with each other.
