Immigration

Sheppard Mullin's immigration attorneys skillfully guide clients through the ever-increasing, complex web of rules, policies, and regulations governing U.S. immigration and global mobility. Sheppard Mullin's multi-disciplinary approach provides U.S. employers with comprehensive advice on immigration matters and the interplay between immigration and employment, tax, corporate, and securities laws.

Transactional Support for U.S. Immigration

Sheppard Mullin's Immigration practice spans the entire process from non-immigrant visas through permanent residency and naturalization. We advise on the application for various non-immigrant visas for the employment of foreign nationals in the U.S., applications for permanent resident status ("green cards"), labor certifications, and administrative matters before U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS), U.S. Department of Labor (DOL), U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP), Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE), U.S. State Department (DOS), and the Department of Justice (DOJ). We routinely advise on the following types of matters:

- Non-Immigrant Visas: B-1 visitors, E-2 investors, E-3 professionals, F-1 students, H-1B professionals, J-1 interns and trainees, L-1 intra-company transfers, and O-1 extraordinary ability
- Permanent Residency: Applications for permanent resident status ("green cards"), including PERM Labor Certifications to prove a shortage of U.S. workers to the U.S. Department of Labor and I-140 immigrant petitions based on many categories
- Government Agency Work: Administrative matters before DHS, DOL, the State Department, and DOJ
- I-9 and E-Verify Policies and Systems: I-9 compliance issues, I-9 verification procedures, ICE audits, and government enforcement proceedings

Antitrust and Competition

Recognized by Chambers, Competition Law360, Legal 500, Global Competition Review, and SuperLawyers, among others, our team has more than 30 attorneys who do nothing but practice antitrust and competition law and includes former high-ranking officials and trial attorneys from the FTC and the U.S. Department of Justice, Antitrust Division.

The hospitality industry has been undergoing dramatic changes in recent years, with consolidation occurring across several key sectors. At the same time, the industry faces increasing antitrust risks as the Biden administration and State Attorneys General continue to ramp up their antitrust enforcement efforts and as plaintiffs challenge certain business practices.

These risks have led a growing number of companies to turn to our leading global antitrust and competition group, as the hospitality industry is a key focus of our practice. Our antitrust attorneys have represented several key players in the industry, including hotels, travel agencies, and consortiums, on a wide range of antitrust issues. We have significant expertise regarding antitrust issues related to potential transactions, pricing practices, and government investigations and litigation. We are also recognized as thought leaders in this space, as we frequently speak and write on these topics.
