Adam Streisand, leader of Sheppard Mullin's Private Wealth and Fiduciary Litigation team, was named among the Daily Journal's 2022 "Top 100 Lawyers."

Daily Journal notes that Streisand is "known as a litigator to the rich and famous... his legacy in the courtroom looms large whenever it concerns a dispute involving trusts, estates and conservatorships. His fame among celebrities includes victories in courtroom battles over celebrity estates and trust wars involving the Los Angeles Lakers, Clippers and Chargers."

In Streisand's victory for Steve Ballmer, a former Microsoft CEO, against businessman Donald Sterling resulting in Ballmer's $2 billion acquisition of the Los Angeles Clippers, Streisand commented, "My trial win for Steve Ballmer means a lot to me because I wanted to be the guy to take the team from Donald Sterling... Now I'm in the trenches on the Chargers and the Orioles."

The profile highlights Streisand's representation of Tom Petty's widow Dana York Petty, WhatsApp founder Jan Koum, Britney Spears in her conservatorship proceedings and Black Panther actor Chadwick Boseman's widow, Taylor Simone Ledward.
